The Golf Course :

Mont Garni Golf Club seduces with the horizons it allows to discover and the calm that emerges. The 18-hole course (par 73), the six approach holes, the putting green and the driving range blend harmoniously into the heart of a 150ha wooded site.

The Irish architect Tom Mc Auley was careful to offer players a variety of landscapes for the pleasure of the eyes and the difficulty of the game.

The 6,631m course, one of the longest in Belgium, is divided into three 6-hole-built around a charismatic Club House. The first six immerse you in the woods, where nature reigns supreme.

Then you find yourself facing the vastness of the plain where a wind blows reminiscent of Ireland and its famous Links. The end of the course is played in the company of centennial trees pushing the limits of your game.
